

Integrated Care Matters Webinars Series 10

Community Hospitals across the Globe

October 8th 3 - 4.30pm BST (4 - 5.30pm CEST)

International Foundation for Integrated Care
IFIC Scotland

UWS UNIVERSITY OF THE WEST OF SCOTLAND

This webinar will showcase the important contribution of community hospitals, subacute hospitals and transitional care units to the delivery of integrated intermediate care, rehabilitation and support closer to home.

We are pleased to co-host this session with the UK Community Hospitals Association, a membership organisation that supports those involved in community hospitals through networking, sharing quality improvements, and contributing to evidence through research.

Guest speakers will compare and contrast models of bed-based intermediate care from Singapore, Catalonia, Nova Scotia and the UK, adding further insights and examples to our growing international community of practice on this topic.

Co-Hosts

Prof Anne Hendry, IFIC Senior Associate Director, IFIC Scotland

Dr Helen Tucker Dickson, Past President UK Community Hospitals Association, Visiting Research Fellow, University of Winchester

Presenters

A/Prof Tan Boon Yeow, CEO and Senior Consultant Physician, St Luke's Hospital, Singapore

Prof Tan's experience spans clinical, education and leadership roles in healthcare, professional bodies and charities. He has been a Council Member, Academy of Medicine Singapore and is both Adjunct Associate Professor National University of Singapore and Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine and Duke-NUS Medical School. He has received multiple awards for excellence in education, for building capability in the community care sector and for his leadership contributions to teaching family medicine.

Marco Inzitari, Professor of Aging, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya and CEO, Parc Sanitari Pere Virgili, Barcelona, Spain

A specialist in geriatrics, Marco is now general director of a public company providing intermediate geriatric care, palliative care, primary care and rehabilitation, and serving as a hub for the Research Group on Aging, Frailty, and Care Transitions (RE-FiT), affiliated with the Vall d'Hebrón Institute of Research and the Barcelona Aging and Longevity Lab (www.ballaginglab.org). He has collaborated with several international organisations and governments, was lead for the transformation of intermediate care in Catalonia (2023-25) and President of the Catalan society of geriatrics and gerontology (2018-21).

Wendy McVeigh, Director of Community Transitions & Mi'kmaw Indigenous Patient Navigation, Central Zone, Nova Scotia Health, Canada

A licensed social worker with 35 years of experience across the continuum of care in Nova Scotia, Wendy is a passionate advocate for improving equity and access to community-based programs and services for vulnerable populations. Her current role provides an opportunity to continue to advance integrated social and health community-based care during periods of transition. She received the Premier's Award of Excellence and Queen Elizabeth II's Platinum Jubilee Medal (Nova Scotia) in recognition of her outstanding public service and leadership.

Lynda Culley, Manager of Community Transitions outreach team, Nova Scotia Health

Lynda trained as a physiotherapist and in dementia studies and has worked in health care for 43 years, initially in the UK then in Ontario. She moved to Nova Scotia in 2014 as a Behaviour Resource Consultant. Since 2024 she has been developing collaborative integrated transitional care pathways for clients who need extra support once they no longer meet the criteria to remain in acute care. Lynda has always been passionate about person and family directed care and looks for new ways to assist clients and their families to take ownership of their health care journey.

Sue Greenwood, MBE and clinical lead, Cornwall Partnerships NHS Foundation Trust.

A Queen's Nurse and Modern Matron, Sue successfully established Community Assessment and Treatment Units for older patients with frailty in community hospitals. This work attracted a commendation in the CHA Innovations and Best Practice programme.
